America its One Hundred and Sixteenth Annual Report, the Ninety-

Action and the Second of the Reorganized Board, continuing the former

Foreword

The Board takes pleasure in presenting to the General Synod this one hundred and sixteenth report. The year has been full of interest. Our missionaries, in spite of disturbed world conditions, have had a year of uninterrupted work. Several new missionaries have gone out during the year and a number of new appointments have been made. The first missionaries to Africa have arrived at their station and this new work has been actively begun.

Dr. Potter made a significant trip to India and Arabia during the year. He was able to take part in the ceremonies which inaugurated the new Church of South India. The opportunity for consultation with the missionaries and their Indian associates with regard to the situation created by the formation of the new Church was invaluable. He was able also to visit all but one of the stations in Arabia and had a memorable trip into the interior, which is offering unique opportunities to the missionaries.

Due to the early meeting of the General Synod it has not been possible to include in this report full tabulated financial statements, but these will be added to the final report circulated to the churches.

The Board is grateful for the generous support given the work of foreign missions by the members of the Church. Only a rising scale of support makes it possible to maintain work in the face of inflated costs and to add the necessary recruits demanded by challenging opportunities.

ANNUAL REPORT, 1948

"And ye shall hear of wars and rumors of wars; see that ye be not troubled, for these things must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet." (Matt. 24:6.)

Chapter One

It has indeed been a year of wars and rumors of war. The partitioning of India and the inauguration of new national governments in India and Pakistan brought rioting and bloodshed on an unimaginable scale. Millions of people fled their homes, Hindu minorities moving from Pakistan into India and Moslem minorities from India into Pakistan. Thousands were massacred by fanatical mobs before reaching their destination. Those who escaped brought little with them and most of them have no place to live and little possibility of making a living. Hundreds of thousands are still in miserable refugee camps. Christians in America and India immediately organized to help meet this mass human suffering. Being Christians they could minister unmolested to Mohammedan and Hindu alike. A significant service was rendered, as reported in a later chapter.

In addition to these disturbances, war between India and Pakistan threatened as the result of disputes over jurisdiction in two or three areas. Fortunately, while troops were involved in Kashmir, no open war has resulted.

The establishment of the new government in India and the celebration of its inauguration brought a wave of nationalistic feeling among the people, but, contrary to the fears of some, Europeans and Americans were not molested. Violent disturbances were almost entirely confined to the north and in our area of India the transition was unattended by violence. Relations between the Indian public and our missionaries are, if anything, on a better basis than before.

While there are many uncertainties in the field of education, for example, as to what will be required under the new government and new relationships will need to be worked out, it nevertheless seems clear that there will be freedom for Christians to preach and to make converts among the people. The new draft constitution places some restrictions on the conversion of minors, but there is no indication as yet that Christian activities among non-Christian Indians will be seriously hindered. For this we should be profoundly thankful.

The civil war in China continues. It is more widely extended, with more troops engaged and with more large scale fighting than a year ago. Missionary areas in North China have been seriously affected. Large cities have not been occupied by the Communists, but many of them have been almost entirely surrounded by the revolutionary army and could be taken almost at will, should the Communists decide to do so. Few missionaries have been able to remain in communist areas. How many is not accurately known, but probably not more than ten. Reports of looting and ill treatment of native Christians are mounting. Some Catholic missionaries have been killed. Certain areas have been entirely evacuated by missionary personnel. It is estimated that a territory including a population of 190,000,000 has been occupied by communist armies. Missionary people cannot look with equanimity upon leaving this vast population without missionary effort. The possibility of reentering these areas with Christian medical and social welfare groups is being explored, but one cannot be too hopeful about the prospect.

This civil war, following upon the dislocations of seven years of foreign war, has brought the whole country to the verge of disaster. The central government seems unable adequately to cope with the situation and its support has seriously deteriorated. Runaway inflation and fantastic prices have brought about untold hardship. During the year Chinese currency depreciated from approximately 5,000 to 1 to 900,000 to 1. Nevertheless it is our opinion that in spite of ineptitude and corruption, the latter historically always a part of government in China, there is more hope for the future in China in the central government than in the leadership of the revolutionists.

It is not possible or, perhaps, appropriate in this report to document this opinion and it may seem unnecessary to make the statement, but the American public, under the influence of what we believe to be leftist propaganda, is in grave danger of being misled. The central government of China has at the top probably the best leadership of any Chinese government of recent times. Though its practice often denies it, it is dedicated to democratic principles and there is more hope in the long run for true democracy and freedom under this leadership than under that of the Communists in the North.

While inflation, rising prices and generally unsettled conditions seriously affect our own area in South China, actual civil war is not present. There are small pockets of Communists or bandits here and there. There were, for example, recent rumors of communist activity threatening our Sio-khe station, but on the whole South China is comparatively quiet and our work has proceeded without interruption from civil war.

Arabia also has not been free from the tension of wars and rumors of war. The decision to partition Palestine brought about strong resentment against America among the Arabs. There was some rioting in Bahrain and all through the area the atmosphere has been tense. Our missionaries and their work, however, had become so well established in the hearts of the people that there were no untoward incidents. A few windows were broken in one building at Bahrain, but more by accident than actual intent. At Christmas time Arabs called as usual upon their missionary friends, although in one place there was some discussion of boycotting the missionary home in protest. While the situation is still full of tension we should be most thankful that the Arab non-Christian community has been able to make a distinction between national policy and the missionary. This is largely due to the years of unselfish service for Christ that lie back of the work of the Arabian Mission.

Due largely to the skillful direction of General Douglas MacArthur and his able staff, and the sincere cooperation of the Japanese government, the year in Japan has been free from tensions and disturbances of the character occurring elsewhere. Surprisingly enough, it is one of the islands of peace in a world sorely beset on all sides. This is, however, a somewhat artificial situation and cannot be relied upon for the long run until basic economic and social problems are brought nearer solution. The food situation is gradually improving although still critical, but Japan's economic future remains unsettled. This is reflected in inflation and advancing prices. We are still required officially to exchange dollars for yen at the rate of fifty yen for one dollar, whereas the real value is nearer 300 to 1. A revision of the exchange rate is being vigorously discussed but nothing has yet been officially decided. Japanese are still unable to leave the country, although a change in this regard is probably imminent and a peace treaty seems as far away as ever. It appears possible that the peace will be made step by step through action rather than in a full-dress peace conference, but until questions of reparation, of the amount of industry, shipping and foreign trade to be permitted have been settled, it will be difficult for Japan to stabilize her economy and look confidently to the future.

The territory in Africa where our first missionaries have just gone seems also to be free from disturbance. The question of the future government of the Sudan is still undecided. Should it be transferred to the control of Egypt, as seems not unlikely, Christian work would undoubtedly be more difficult, but at present there is no change in the situation.

Thus the work of our missions has been carried out in the midst of wars, rumors of war, and disturbed economic and social conditions. We are admonished by the Master not to be troubled by these things. So long as men are under sin, "these things must needs come to pass." The preaching of the Gospel becomes more urgent and the glory of it is that the Gospel has been preached, that men and women have been brought into the Kingdom and that larger areas for missionary activity are presenting themselves. The detailed story of the year in each field will make this abundantly clear.

they labor in vain that build it." (Ps.

Chapter Two

The opening section of the report of the Amoy Mission probes deeply into the causes of the current disturbed situation in China which has been reported in the first chapter. The writer of the report points out that the rift splitting Chinese life is not merely the result of civil war, but reflects a far more fundamental cultural crisis. He quotes Dr. T. C. Chao, one of China's most respected Christian teachers, as follows: "China has had a long past during which she has undergone innumerable changes,—but never in these changes was China's cultural foundation shaken and destroyed. The depth of China's cultural ocean was calm and undisturbed—. But today the situation is different. Not only the edifice but the foundation of Chinese culture has been thoroughly shaken and even subverted. Upon what solid ground will the future of the Chinese nation be built?"

The report goes on to say:

"Were the missionaries to become obsessed with the inevitable concomitants of social upheaval,—chaos, corruption, dishonesty and instability,—they might in disgust turn their backs on the disorder and go home. But they know that one day there will emerge a new foundation compounded of the best and most indestructible of the old, and the best and highest of the new. The missionary knows that Christianity is that best element which some day will go into the foundation of Chinese life. The Amoy Mission has been witnessing to the eternal Gospel among a people being driven to desperation by almost intolerable conditions. We believe that man's extremity is still God's opportunity. We have faith that God in His providence has used our efforts of the past year to contribute to the great work of evangelizing China."

All agree that there is a unique opportunity for evangelistic work in China today. Officials are friendly, schools are open, the people hear the Gospel gladly. The report points out, however, that no one can say that this opportunity has been fully grasped. Available pastors and leaders are painfully few in number and in some cases ill prepared. Besides, the workers are so involved in the daily struggle for existence that much of their energy is dissipated in feelings of insecurity, fear, frustration and sadness in witnessing the tragedy of life.

This highlights the necessity of developing new and stronger leadership. There is progress to report here. The situation in the theological seminary under the leadership of Dr. Koeppe has been clarified and it has been decided to raise the standard of the school to admit only high school graduates. There have been twenty students in the school during the year, although only four of these were of higher grade.

Miss Holkeboer, with two Chinese associates, spent four months in three villages with a broad program of health, home making and evangelism. This is an experiment with a new approach to the village which has proven its worth, but it also looks in the direction of the development of new leadership.

A new type of approach has also been worked out in Sio-khe by Miss Bruce, Mrs. Vandermeer and six Chinese coworkers. The medical and evangelistic staff was combined into one unit and a group went to the same village twice a month to teach, preach and heal. The results of this new effort have been most encouraging.

Of course, the work of the schools is basic in the training of Christian leadership to meet the new day in China. The principals of the two high schools, Miss Carol Chen of the Amoy Girls' School and Mr. Yu-lin Lin of Talmage College, have been in the United States, preparing for more efficient service in China. But their schools have continued to carry on with capacity enrollments. A recent graduate of Fukien Christian University heads up the special religious work in Talmage College and the whole atmosphere of the school is Christian, through the influence of the largely Christian faculty. At the Amoy Girls' School a special week of prayer with emphasis on decision for Christ was held in the middle of the fall term. At Christmas time the equivalent of $400.00 was contributed by the students and cloth purchased with this money was distributed to the needy. Together with the distribution the girls presented the Gospel message.

The several primary schools are overcrowded and buildings and equipment are in a delapidated condition. Often the basic requirements of sound educational practice are lacking. A special survey committee, however, has studied the situation and efforts are being made to remedy it. The Livingstone Easter Junior Middle and Primary School at Tong-an has worked out a five year program for developing the work. A fine religious program is being carried out in this school and the school and the church work together in a most admirable way.

An important part of the work for youth in Amoy is the growing Youth Fellowship, supported in part by the Youth Fellowship of our Church. Five summer conferences were held last summer. These have brought forward many recruits for full or part time Christian service. At the Amoy District Conference, for example, forty-eight decisions were made, twelve of these for full time service.

An important new avenue for Christian work and for recruiting Christian leadership is the student work on the campus of the state university at Amoy. The Rev. John Muilenburg gave part time service there last year. Twenty-one were baptized and another ten were in a preparatory class at the end of the year. The Sunday afternoon service on the campus, planned by the students, is attended by 150 to 200, and Christian students conduct a Sunday School for the children of members of the faculty and staff.

There are always a number of students from Amoy in the Fukien Christian University at Foochow. Thus the University develops Christian leaders who serve in the Church and in the schools in South Fukien. The Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Van Wyk, our representatives on the faculty of the school, have made a strong contribution to the Christian life of this University campus.

The medical work of the Mission is an important part of its evangelistic thrust. On July 16, 1947 the Hope Hospital was reopened after the war. Dr. Clarence Holleman was directly or indirectly responsible for collecting $100,000 U. S. currency from local and overseas Chinese and for securing $75,000 worth of supplies and equipment from the various relief organizations, a very significant achievement. The School of Nursing was also opened on September 16, 1947, with twelve high school graduates enrolled.

The Leng-na Hospital is also being refurbished and reorganized under the direction of Dr. Theodore Oltman. The local chamber of commerce has raised the equivalent of $2,500 U. S. currency for this work.

Changchow Union Hospital is still carrying on its work in the Seminary buildings, although it is expected that the new building will be completed in another year. The School for Nursing secured government registration this year and has an enrollment of thirty.

Sio-khe continues to carry on its work under the direction of Dr. So Tat-Beng, while Tong-an is only now getting under way again after the death of the Chinese doctor in charge.

The four hospitals in active operation ministered altogether to 84,752 people, and public health visits have totalled more than 4,000 with 6,500 immunizations.

Christian activity in the hospitals is vigorously carried on. Ten of the nurses in the Nursing School at Changchow were baptized at Easter time. It is difficult to overstate the influence of these institutions, the work of the nursing schools being especially significant. This is being appreciated by the general public in China and the report emphasizes an increasing readiness on the part of the Chinese to support these Christian hospitals and nursing schools.

The reoccupation of the Leng-na station, after an evacuation which extended to eighteen years, has been most stimulating to the whole Mission, says the report. Repairs on the three deserted and broken residences standing on the hill above the hospital, made from funds received from the United Advance, have rendered them "livable if not comfortable" and they are now full to capacity. The churches and outstations in the district have taken on new activity. At Se-oan the newly ordained pastor looks forward to making this village a model Christian center and plans are being made to regain control of the primary school in the church compound which some years ago was taken over by the county. New work has been opened at a market town along the motor road to Leng-na.

In May the members of the Mission joined Leng-na Christians in celebrating Miss Katharine Green's forty years of service in the Amoy Mission. The tribute to Miss Green took the form of a service project comprising a reading room and recreation hall in the basement of the church.

The missionary residences at Tong-an were also again occupied. Only Miss Nienhuis and Dr. Eckerson, however, were available for work in the station since the others were engaged in language study, but it is evident that the presence of these new missionaries has given hope to the war-weary and hard-pressed Christian leadership of church and school.

The report gives the story of each church and outstation in detail. This cannot be repeated here, but a few sentences taken at random will give some impression of the situation. The Leng-na Church carries on a strong work among the military and civil officials there. The Gan-chioh chapel has taken on new life under her new pastor. High hopes are held for this place. The Tang Poa-an Church in Changchow city shows growth and vitality. There has been a good attendance at services, a youth fellowship is active and prayer groups sustain the program of the church in fervent and effectual intercession. The church at Chio-be maintains two preaching places and has one branch chapel, which is self-supporting. This church has for years had a daily sunrise prayer and Bible study group which undoubtedly accounts for much of its power. At Soasia, in the Sio-khe district, the hearers are so many that it is planned to build a new church. The church in Sio-khe exerts a splendid influence in the city. The An-ho Church in Tong-an has made plans for a new sanctuary and the other church in the town has raised funds locally and redecorated the church building.

The other side of the picture is reflected in such statements as these: "In the An-khoe area for which our Mission is responsible, there is not a single pastor or full time qualified preacher at work. This involves ten chapels." The five chapels associated with one of the Changchow churches "may be characterized by the term 'lifelessness'. Why? We must come back monotonously to the one great lack of the Church,—adequate leadership."

The final sentence in the report gives the general impression derived from a consideration of the year's work: "Although the year 1947 brought solid achievements in all branches of our work, the year must also be considered one of preparation and reorientation for 'greater things to come'." This is reflected in the fact that at the end of the year surveys were being undertaken of the An-khoe area, so long neglected, and the large field beyond Leng-na, inadequately occupied, which the London Missionary Society has asked us to take over. The years ahead should show great improvement in Amoy, not only in the occupation of the field but in the development of leadership adequate to the needs. This work is only a small segment of the total Christian program in China, but our missionaries and their Chinese coworkers are striving valiantly to make sure that the new house which China must build on the ruins of a disintegrated culture may be a house which the Lord of life shall build, and not another.

"That the world may believe that Thou hast sent me." (John 17:21.)

Chapter Three

The great political event of the year was the celebration of independence on August 15th, when India finally achieved her cherished aim and emerged from the long period of tutelage under British rule. In every institution of our area there were formal celebrations and on that eventful evening there were spontaneous demonstrations throughout the land. There was some disappointment among the more thoughtful because India had to be broken up and emerged as two dominions, Pakistan and India, but at least they were free now to carve out their own destiny and hope ran high. In the wave of good will even old scores against Great Britain were forgotten. She had after all fulfilled her promises and therefore the tensions which had developed in recent years were quickly released.

The joy was, alas, short lived. The intercommunal feeling between Hindus and Moslems which had made necessary the partition of the country into two separate dominions, was far more deep seated and bitter than anyone had imagined. In the north, particularly in the province of Punjab, which had been divided between the two dominions, age old hatreds flamed forth and scenes of unimaginable barbarity were enacted. Moslems fell upon Hindu minorities on the Pakistan side of the border and across the line Hindus and Sikhs attacked Moslem minorities. Whole villages were wiped out and there ensued a frantic attempt of Moslems to escape to Pakistan and Hindus to India. Some eight million people were involved in this tremendous migration and refugee problems beggaring description quickly arose.

Against such a dark background has the work of the Church been carried on in India this year and this has highlighted some of its service. The problem was an impossible one for the two dominions, not yet thoroughly organized. The churches of America through Church World Service, have sent nearly two million pounds of supplies valued at over half a million dollars. Missions and churches in India have contributed personnel, relief workers, doctors and nurses. From the Christian Medical College at Vellore two doctors and two nurses went to the scene of suffering as did our fine Christian doctor, Dr. Julius Savarirayan, from the Scudder Memorial Hospital, Ranipet. A deep impression has been made by this service of Christians at a time when only a Christian could minister to both warring parties, and the value of this service of compassion has been generously acknowledged by Hindu and Moslem leaders alike. The significance of this development for the future of the Church in India is unmistakable.

By a curious coincidence, or may we not venture to say, by providential direction, the inauguration of the new Church of South India was celebrated at the very time when disorders in north India were at their height. The contrast of fratricidal conflict between two religious parties in the north and the unification of diverse Christian bodies in the south was drawn in such vivid colors as to be unforgettable. By this union, the consummation of which was celebrated in the Cathedral of St. George in Madras on September 27, 1947, the old South India United Church, through which we have been operating for nearly fifty years, was joined with the churches which have grown out of the work conducted in South India by the British Methodists and the Anglicans. The new church embraces a Christian community of a little over a million and will be one of the strong forces in the Madras Presidency with its united witness. It is impressive and significant that this movement toward union began thirty years ago with the cooperation of the various churches in a united evangelistic campaign. After three years of united planning for the spread of the Gospel the leaders were led to consider the possibility of more permanent union "that the world might believe" and after twenty-eight years of thoughtful, prayerful consultations, the way was found.

While in some respects this was a consummation, in others it is but a beginning. These churches of different tradition and custom will require years to grow together and at the present time all the intricate details of reorganization are being worked out. There is a new spirit and a high hope, however, as this difficult task is faced, for all realize that we have now experienced in South India the final evolution of the Church. In our work we look back to the time when the Arcot Mission, composed of missionaries alone, directed all activities. Some twenty-five years ago, it was succeeded by the Arcot Assembly, with liberal representation of Indian Christians, but it was still a body existing alongside the church and including all missionaries. In 1939 further progress was made as the Assembly was superseded by bodies elected from the church membership, Indian and missionary, without distinction, but these were still bodies functioning within a particular mission area and not fundamentally related to the South India United Church. The new Church of South India will function for the whole area of the church and the various Boards created will stem directly from the church itself as we are accustomed to see the pattern in our own country. It is a milestone of tremendous significance. This is not only a unique achievement in Church union. It is a culmination of the long process of establishing the church in South India.

So great in their importance have been these general developments in India that it seemed necessary to use practically all the allotted space of this report to describe them. The regular Christian work in our own area has continued steadily but we must omit reference to all its varied aspects, which were outlined in last year's report and which will appear in a limited edition of the Arcot report separately published in India. It is impressive, however, to note against the background of momentous events, that there has been unusual activity in direct evangelistic effort. The final statistics of the year have not yet been received but in three villages alone there were some five hundred baptisms, in one case the whole village becoming Christian and erecting at its own expense the combined church and school to serve the village. The Indian Christian community has also set itself the task of raising one hundred thousand rupees (about $30,500) during the next five years, to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the Arcot Mission in 1953. The main purpose of this fund is to make possible further aggressive evangelistic effort in the villages of the Arcot area.

There is much in India today to cause deep anxiety. The political future is uncertain. But there are able leaders in that field. The central government in India today, in its leadership, bears comparison with almost any country in the world. We thank God, also, that in His church leaders are emerging who in His strength will be sufficient for the great task confronting them. Never did they more need our support in prayer and in financial resources than today. As we unite our efforts we may look forward to the development of a church in India which shall play a noble role in the unfolding history of that country.

No report on India would be complete without reference to the death of Mahatma Gandhi. The unquestioned political leader of a great people engaged in a long struggle to achieve independence, it was in a sense politically impossible for him to identify himself with the religion of the ruling foreign power, and particularly in his later years he strongly emphasized his Hindu convictions. Yet in the spiritual qualities which he displayed and the unique manner in which he employed those qualities for profound revolution on a broad social scale, he gave evidence of the deep impression made upon his life by the teachings of the New Testament and the example of the Cross. We extend our deep sympathy to a stricken people deprived of a great spiritual leader who has again and again in his own life and in his death itself given meaning to the whole conception of vicarious sacrifice.

"And He saw a great multitude, and He had compassion on them because they were as sheep not having a shepherd, and He began to teach them."
(Mark 6:34.)

Chapter Four

This word of the gospels almost exactly describes the situation that still obtains in Japan. The people have lost their anchorage in the past, their future is uncertain, and they are tragically confused and bewildered. Which way shall they turn? Shall they return to the arid past of nation worship, shall they heed the call of a communist utopia, or shall it be Christ who leads them?

Looking upon the people of Japan with the mind of Christ, Christian America can but have compassion and seek to tell them of the resurrected Christ, in Whom alone is salvation for the individual and hope for the nation.

There is no formal report from our missionaries in Japan. This chapter will attempt to give a general outline of the situation. There has been a good deal of public discussion in this country with reference to Protestant work in Japan and considerable disquiet and dissatisfaction expressed. No doubt some of this criticism is justified. No one can be satisfied with what has been accomplished in the face of the unparalleled opportunity which presents itself. However, it needs to be said that reports coming out of Japan from other than Protestant sources have been quite definitely designed to create a favorable opinion of non-Protestant work, and these seem to have been very successful in accomplishing their purpose in Protestant circles. Reports have even been circulated that the Emperor was about to become a Roman Catholic. It is a fact that members of the Imperial family are definitely interested in Christianity, but most of the contact so far seems to have been by leaders of our own Church of Christ. Obviously it would not be appropriate to make comparisons in a report of this kind, but it is necessary to recognize that invidious comparisons have been made and in our opinion these are unjustified by the facts.

Some have questioned whether the present cooperative approach to the work in Japan may not have lessened the contribution which the churches of North America, our own Church among them, might have made. This criticism must be given serious consideration. Certainly a good deal of time has been spent in perfecting organization and we, in the Board, are convinced that the cooperative approach must be made to work as efficiently as another method, if it is to be continued. The present way of carrying on the work has, however, been the natural outcome of the situation itself and involves no departure in principle from the traditional policy of our Board and Church, viz.—that of full consultation with the Church on the field. Since that Church is at present a united Church, a Council of Cooperation has been set up in Japan and Boards involved in the united Church on the field have established a method for joint consultation here, in the Interboard Committee. The organization for carrying out this policy is now complete and the next two or three years should test its validity.

The relation of our missionaries to our Church remains unchanged under this new arrangement and on the field they have the utmost freedom to proclaim the Gospel. There is also no organizational limitation on the number of missionaries whom we as a Church might send to Japan. There are at present five of our missionaries there. Miss Bogard should be leaving for the field this autumn, if her health permits, and it is likely that Mrs. de Maagd will also go out this year. What size missionary force should the Board look forward to keeping in Japan? The answer depends largely on how many will volunteer and on how many the Church can and will support, along with the obligations in other fields. Certainly at least three evangelistic families and two short-term teachers should be appointed as soon as possible. The total number to be sought would probably best be left to the future. The important thing now is to get the recruits immediately required.

The united Church continues to develop its organization and vigorously press its evangelistic program. In the three-year evangelistic campaign Dr. Kagawa reports that he has spoken to more than 400,000 people and that 60,000 have signed cards at these meetings, signifying their desire to become Christians. A substantial number of these have already joined the Church. Other speakers in the campaign have also been given a wide hearing.

Mr. de Maagd has been on two visits to Kyushu and has been in active contact with those with whom we were directly associated in the work before the war. On his first visit he found considerable dissatisfaction with the united Church, but on his last visit the situation was quite changed. This confirms the general impression received here, that the new Church is becoming more firmly established. A committee is working on a new creed for the Church and the tentative statement of doctrine proposed by this committee and received here gives strong reassurance. As already stated, the policy of our Board is to leave the Church on the field free to maintain its own life under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Should a substantial number of our own constituency, for reasons that seemed to us sound, decide to leave the Church, we would have to work out some plan for cooperating with them, as well as with those who remained within the Church. This contingency does not seem likely to arise at present.

Our Christian schools have capacity enrollments and the Christian program is vigorously carried on. Adjustments to the new education system, modeled on the American plan, are being worked out. This will add one year of high school curriculum and one year of college. Sturges Seminary is operating in temporary buildings largely paid for by money raised in Japan. Mr. Hirotsu, who has worked with the Japan Mission in one relation or another for forty-eight years, has been acting as principal. Mr. de Maagd reports that he speaks with the vigor of a man of fifty. The alumnae of Ferris Seminary are securing funds for some renovation of the Ferris buildings. The Rev. Shiro Murata has become president of the Meiji Gakuin, Mr. Yano having resigned to become secretary of the National Christian Educational Association. Little has yet been done to rehabilitate the badly run down plant. The full cost of reconstructing these schools is not yet available, but from estimates so far received it is evident that the amounts provided in the United Advance Fund will be far from adequate.

There are at present 270 missionaries of all Protestant denominations in Japan. This may seem a small number, but to those who have been in intimate contact with the situation it represents a substantial achievement. Arrangements with the authorities in Japan had to be worked out after the war and the first of the Commission of Six, which has been responsible for all subsequent relations to SCAP, did not arrive in Japan until April 1946. In the case of every missionary who has gone out, housing has had to be guaranteed to SCAP in advance, and that in a country where most of the cities have been destroyed and where many residences still available were occupied by military personnel.

A good deal of effort this year has gone into perfecting the arrangement for providing a regular flow of food to Christian workers in Japan. This was referred to in last year's report as an urgent necessity, particularly for ministers, in order to release them from outside activities required to supplement the inadequate salaries which depleted congregations are able to pay. This program of relief is now being carried out with funds made available by Boards and by the relief funds of the churches, administered by Church World Service.

The general relief program has now been in operation for about two years. This is administered in Japan through LARA, the central agency in Japan through which eleven voluntary relief agencies in the United States send relief supplies to Japan. Distribution of these supplies is supervised by a central representative committee, and the Social Welfare Ministry of the Japanese government has most efficiently carried out the distribution at no expense to the donors. About 7,000,000 pounds of food, clothing, medical supplies and other essentials, valued at more than $2,000,000, have been distributed, about half of these having been contributed by the Protestant churches of the United States. This work has aided at least 2,000,000 people and more than 1,300 institutions, including hospitals, clinics, orphanages, nurseries, summer youth camps and leper hospitals. More than 30,000 abandoned or sick babies have been helped. Church World Service has also printed here and sent out 100,000 church hymnals, and the American Bible Society has supplied 1,500,000 New Testaments.

Mention should be made of the plans projected for a Christian University in Japan. There is enthusiasm for the project in Japan on the part of the general public and the committee there has been exceedingly fortunate in securing a most satisfactory site fifteen miles from the center of Tokyo. The board of founders in North America is being organized with representatives of supporting Boards and plans for a nationwide campaign for funds in the United States and Canada are being perfected. In order to make such a campaign successful it is necessary for the Boards to back the project with initial grants and the General Synod is requested to commend the project to our constituency.

Thee."* (Gen. 17:18.)

Chapter Five

There has been considerable building activity in the Arabian Mission this year. A fine new doctor's residence has been erected at Bahrain so as to provide for the program of maintaining two doctors in that station to make possible extensive touring in the interior. A new obstetrical wing for the women's hospital has also been recently opened. In Kuwait a house adjoining the hospital compound has been purchased and after extensive alterations will be used to accommodate patients who are far too numerous for housing in the old limited quarters. Substantial funds are in hand, raised largely on the field, to erect a new men's hospital as soon as building operations are more feasible. The present rapid expansion of the local oil company makes all building operations difficult and expensive. Down the coast at Muscat alterations have also been made to one of the old mission buildings so as to accommodate another missionary family, Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Kapenga having recently arrived there to supplement the efforts of Dr. and Mrs. Dykstra.

Mention should be made also of the erection of a small hospital at Qatar. The local sheikh erected and equipped this hospital entirely at his own expense and we now maintain an Indian doctor there, while our mission doctors from Bahrain make occasional extended visits. So we enter again upon new territory and extend the impact of the Mission upon Arabia.

Mention was made in the last annual report of our hope of obtaining a foothold in Hassa, one of the great provinces of Saudi Arabia. Dr. and Mrs. Storm spent several months there last year and in the course of a recent tour of inspection the Board Secretary for Arabia was able to visit this important inland province, the chief seat of oil operations in the interior. Because of the friendliness of the governor, Dr. Storm was invited to bring in a small party, including the Secretary and Rev. E. Luidens and nothing could have exceeded the warmth of the hospitality received. A whole wing of the governor's palace was placed at their disposal. Passing through the streets of the city and visiting its shops, everywhere one encountered Bedouins who greeted Dr. Storm with great cordiality. He has won for himself a real place in the hearts of these Arabs.

This is but one of many illustrations of the wonderful way in which missionaries have won the friendship of these sons of Ishmael. The demonstrations were the more impressive because they came at a time when the Arab world was feeling bitter toward America and highly indignant over its part in promoting the partition of Palestine. There was no restraint in their condemnation of America but they always drew the distinction between political animosity and their unshaken friendship for individual missionaries.

Outbreaks against the Jews in Bahrain interfered for a time in the smooth working of the Girls' School at Bahrain but some Jewish teachers employed there were soon able to return. It was impressive to see in this school and in our other Girls' School in Basrah and the one at Baghdad under the United Mission in Mesopotamia, how Christians, Jews and Moslems attending these schools were able to work together with little of the friction occasioned by political events. There is a spirit in these schools, where pupils study the life and teachings of Christ and sing the great Christian songs, which creates an atmosphere deeply influencing the whole life of the pupils even if it does not lead to outright discipleship. The same is true of the Boys' School at Basrah and one notable development of that school in recent years is the establishment of a club for young men, many of them graduates of the institution, which meets in one of the old school buildings, enlarged and beautified at the expense of the club itself. There these young men find the only center of social life where drinking and gambling are forbidden and there is opportunity for good, healthy social activities.

The most important point of emphasis in this Mission is the need of recruits. Three of the evangelistic missionaries now on the field are in their final term of service. One of these, Dr. John Van Ess, is to retire next year. In recent years another has died and another retired. Five families to be replaced and over against that there is the record of only three recent appointments. On the medical side, two new doctors have been sent out in recent years but Dr. Mylrea has retired and Dr. Paul Harrison returns to America this year to retire. It is not enough simply to fill their places when medical work is still so effective an avenue for opening new fields and we must take advantage of new stations in Qatar and Hassa.

The Mission has also lost four women doctors in the last decade without a single replacement. It is important that the whole church be aware of this situation and report to the Board whenever and wherever there is an opportunity to secure a suitable recruit. If every pastor would keep in mind, for example, the acute need of doctors, surely we should hear of some fine young men, released from army service, who might consider this challenge to a difficult but rewarding service in Arabia.

Much of our work in Arabia is still of the pioneer type, making friends, breaking down the natural hostility of the Moslem toward the Christian, finding new territory into which we can enter with friendly service and tell the story as opportunity offers. But the little groups of Christians continue to grow, with painful slowness, as it seems to us, for the adversaries are many. But because it is so hard for the Moslem to come to open allegiance, each convert won brings special joy to the missionary. There was a touching ceremony last year when at one service in Bahrain the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Luidens was baptized with an old slave woman, Medinah. After a long life of hardship, finally she has found her Lord, and as she tells her story there can be no question of the reality of her spiritual experience.

Another striking ceremony was held this year in the little chapel at Baghdad. Rev. and Mrs. B. D. Hakken have been working there for many years, our representatives in the United Mission in Mesopotamia, where, too, the great call is for recruits. They and one other family are the only evangelistic missionaries today active in that Mission. The chapel is really a part of their house, where the little groups of Christians can gather together quietly, much as they did in the early days of the church. At one of these services two fine young Moslems were baptized this year and added to the church. Another recent convert is considering entering the ministry. Pray for these young men, who have given proof of their loyalty for Christ such as is rarely if ever called for from us in a country of Christian customs and traditions.

" . . . concluding that God had called us to preach the Gospel unto them."
(Acts 16:10.)

Chapter Six

As this chapter is being written, word comes that our first missionaries to Africa have arrived at their destination, Akobo Post, South Sudan. The Rev. and Mrs. J. Robert Swart and Miss Wilma J. Kats sailed from New York on January 9, 1948. There were many delays and difficulties along the way, including measles on the steamer and a rather serious attack of dysentery suffered by the Swart baby at Khartoum, but we are thankful that under the protecting hand of Providence all have now arrived at Akobo safely and in good health. Thus has begun an important advance program undertaken by the Reformed Church.

There have been fears expressed lest this new field hamper the work in the older fields. The occupation of the interior of Arabia seems imminent, comparatively unoccupied areas contiguous to the Amoy region are being surveyed and there are also areas on the fringes of Arcot which are inadequately occupied. Furthermore, the opportunity in Japan is unparalleled and calls for special effort. Would it not have been better to have concentrated on existing fields? Will not this new venture make it impossible for our Church adequately to meet the challenge in those countries where we have been at work?

These questions are pertinent. When the actual decision to begin work in Africa was made, no one anticipated the situation which has so quickly developed in Japan. Furthermore, the inflation in all our fields which makes increased income necessary to carry on the same work was not anticipated. Nevertheless, the opportunity in Africa presented itself as a distinct challenge. The project called for work in one tribe in association with the United Presbyterian Mission and held out the possibility of Christianization in a comparatively short time, with limited personnel and a small capital investment. It was felt that this was a project that we could and should undertake.

In retrospect, there should be no regrets that this work has been initiated. It is inconceivable that the Reformed Church should remain static in its missionary outreach. It is natural that from time to time it should undertake new ventures. The last field to be entered under the Board of Foreign Missions was that in Arabia more than fifty years ago and that work was begun as an independent venture. As we look back today, we realize how poor the Church would have been without the Arabian Mission. This new project in Africa should attract new interest and new support and, instead of weakening the older work, should strengthen the evangelistic thrust of the Church at home and abroad all along the line.

Furthermore, while the opportunity in Japan is unparalleled, it is unlikely that the American churches will be called upon to keep as large a missionary staff there as formerly. At one time our Church maintained two missions in Japan, the North and the South Japan Missions. There were altogether, at the high point of missionary occupation, 1610 missionaries in Japan (1924). At that time our Board maintained forty missionaries there. Present overall plans call for not more than 1000 missionaries, but larger emphasis is being put on developing native leadership. The Advance Program prepared by the Japan Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference includes the recruiting and training of 400 Japanese Christian ministers in the next five years. How many missionaries we should maintain in Japan remains to be decided as the situation develops, but, apart from larger support by the Church for the Africa Mission, there should be some leeway in the Japan program, so far as missionary personnel is concerned, for the development of the work in Africa.

As has been said, our missionaries in Africa are to be associated with missionaries of the United Presbyterian Church there and, so far as possible, the work is to be directed to the Christianization of the Anuak tribe. A part of this tribe lives in South Sudan and a part in the southwest corner of Ethiopia. The physical boundary between these two sections of the tribe presents no difficulty. It is, in fact, a narrow river which can be crossed in a small boat, but the political boundary presents what might prove to be insurmountable difficulties. It is impossible to take up work among the Anuaks across this river boundary without the consent of the Ethiopian government. As this report is being made, the Rev. Don McClure, according to present plans, will be in Addis Ababa carrying on negotiations with Haile Selassie for permission to open work there. The field is easily accessible from the Ethiopian side by air transport and if consent is given it will be possible to press the work with vigor among the tribe as a unit. Your prayers that these negotiations may be successful are earnestly requested.

For the present, however, our missionaries will be located at Akobo. Residences are available for Miss Kats and both the Swart and Hoekstra families. These new recruits will make it their first business, however, to acquire the language and by the time they are ready for active work it is hoped that the way will be clear for opening a station in Ethiopia in addition to the station which the Rev. Don McClure is projecting south of Akobo at Pachala.

Mr. Swart writes that the jeep which supporting churches made available for him has proved invaluable. When they arrived at Khar-toum there was a railroad strike in the Sudan, affecting trains and boats, and the party drove from Khartoum on to Akobo. The jeep pulled other vehicles out of the mud at several points, Mr. Swart reports.

The Anuak tribe project has now been formally approved by both the Sudan and Ethiopian Missions of the United Presbyterian Church and an arrangement has been entered into with the United Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions by which our Board will undertake half of the expense of the equipment of the work. It is estimated that this will amount to approximately $33,000, which can be distributed over two or three years.

Thus the work in Africa is off to a promising start. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Crandall, appointed at the February meeting of the Board, will be, it is hoped, assigned to Africa. Mrs. Crandall is a trained nurse and Mr. Crandall is a graduate in agriculture, having taken in addition a year at the Biblical Seminary. Other recruits, as noted in the chapter on personnel, are still needed, but the Board rejoices in being able to report to this General Synod that the work in Africa has been so well begun. Everyone will look forward to subsequent reports as the actual work gets under way.

“ . . . forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord.”
(1 Cor. 15:58.)

Chapter Seven

The work of the Board at home often seems humdrum as compared with the work on the field for which it is carried out, but there is always the thought that if this be faithfully done in prayer it will not be “in vain in the Lord.”

The Board of Foreign Missions has had two well-attended meetings, in Chicago and in New Brunswick; a third meeting of the Board will have been held in New York before this report is in print. A fine cooperative spirit has been manifest at all sessions. The Department of Women's Work of the Board, in which the particular interests of the women are conserved and promoted, has met monthly between October and May. Here, too, enthusiasm is keen and the spirit of helpfulness very marked.

The Rev. Barnerd M. Luben, field secretary of the Board, has done yeoman work throughout the year, making itineraries for missionaries on furlough, arranging for mission fests, and securing interest in projects of the Board. Since May 1, 1947, thirty-seven churches have taken “regular shares” in the missionaries and thirty-four have taken the “emergency shares” necessitated by the extraordinary expenses of the times.

In a significant series of conferences, Miss Ransom and Mr. Luben have met with the classical agents for foreign missions in all the Synods, discussing ways in which the agents and the Board can extend their usefulness one to the other. Out of these has grown a mimeographed manual for classical agents. The continued loyal services of the agents are much appreciated by the Board.

The Board has continued to cooperate with all the other Boards of the Church, particularly in the maintenance of an educational program for young people and for children, so that the full program of the Reformed Church, including its foreign missionary work, may be kept in sight of the entire church constituency.

As voted by General Synod, February was observed as Foreign Missions Month and the last Sunday as Foreign Missions Sunday. The Church Herald carried many additional articles. Special church bulletin covers for the first and last Sundays were prepared, some sixty thousand of each being distributed to churches requesting them. Special material for use in the church school was prepared, leading up to an offering for paper for Japan, on which Christian literature for children may be printed. To date, the offering totals $1,786.86. The value in missionary education is, of course, far beyond the monetary return. The special February offering of the women was toward rebuilding Yok-tek Primary School at Amoy, which at this writing totals $4,147.49.

New audio-visual aids include a film on work in the Arcot Mission, "His Own Master", and a lecture illustrated with fifty slides, also on our work in India.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. M. Stephen James, the Department of Women's Work has continued its active and many-sided program. Relationships with the Women's Board of Domestic Missions clear through the Joint Committee. Miss Marion Hull, Secretary, conscientiously carries the responsibilities for joint program material, public meetings, training conferences and all united approaches to the women of the church.

The Field Representation Committee, Miss Anne B. Littell chairman, has kept in constant touch with the missionaries by correspondence, and has initiated a round robin letter among the missionaries emeritus.

The Committee on Magazines and Books for Missionaries, Mrs. Peter Vanden Berge chairman, is doing constructive work bringing together the missionary, the literature he or she desires, and the person or persons glad to provide it. Quantity buying makes for economy and greater usefulness.

The Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Gerard R. Gnade chairman, literally "covers the waterfront", meeting outgoing and incoming missionaries at all hours and sending personal messages when actual contact is not possible.

The Sewing Guild Committee, Mrs. Lester Bossard chairman, during the year despatched well over seven tons of Sewing Guild supplies. Fifty-five cases went to Arabia, thirty-seven to India, and two cases were shipped to China with Dr. T. V. Oltman's freight. Customs charges on these shipments are very heavy. Increasingly, givers of Sewing Guild materials are including funds to send them and help pay duty. Every effort is made to have the contents meet the exact needs overseas and many missionaries testify that the material sent them would be unobtainable in their areas at any cost.

A Guest Day, to which each member of the Department invited one or two other women, interested in the work of the Department, proved an enjoyable and helpful addition to the schedule.

Tangible evidence of the devotion of the women to foreign missions is the $6,836.80 increase in gifts from women's societies in eleven months.

The Board of Foreign Missions is doing its part in the general advance program in foreign missions sponsored by the Foreign Missions Conference and will have representatives at the June and October meetings at Columbus at which the Boards work together toward "One World in Christ." Members of the Reformed Church will join in the great interdenominational meetings to be held in October and November in thirty-six cities throughout the United States, and hold denominational missionary rallies in several of the cities having strong Reformed Church constituencies. Dr. Paul Harrison has been chosen as one of the team of speakers who will visit these cities.

The United Advance funds have been of inestimable help to our missionaries. In China residences have been repaired at Sio-khe, Tong-an and Leng-na and plans are projected for rebuilding modern apartment residences on Kulangsu to replace those torn down by the Japanese. The Yok-tek primary school building is nearing completion, the classroom building at Talmage College, projected years ago, is now being built and the Changchow Union Hospital is also in process of erection. In Japan help has been given Sturges Seminary to secure temporary buildings in place of those completely destroyed by fire, $8,000 has been made available for the purchase of prefabricated buildings to be used as temporary churches, and a prefabricated house is being sent out for the use of Miss Walvoord at Sturges Seminary.

Other plans are projected for Voorhees College in India and for the hospital at Kuwait. Without these funds it is difficult to see how the reconstruction needs of the fields could have been met. With them the missionaries and their associates can look forward with courage and hope to the evangelistic opportunities which face them. It takes imagination to see the relation between these material structures and the work of evangelization, but to the missionaries and their associates on the field these things are basic essentials to healthy living and necessary tools with which to work in the training for leadership and the building of the Church.

In all honesty, however, it must be recalled that the estimate of the Foreign Board was cut when the Advance Fund was set up and, furthermore, needs have developed in Japan and in India which could not have been foreseen when the program was projected. The Fund, as large as it was in total, will not be sufficient to complete the task of reconstruction which faces us, and the Board will find it necessary to present these needs to the Church at the proper time. Some of them have been included in this year's budget.

The Board records with sorrow the death of the Rev. Edward Dawson, D.D., for many years its revered president, and of the Rev. Luke A. Brunsting, always faithful to his duties as a member of the Board. Friends like these cannot be replaced, but their going serves to deepen the devotion and consecration of those who have been privileged to serve with them.

"Upon the first day of the week let each one of you lay by him in store as he may prosper." (Acts 16:2.)

Chapter Eight

FINANCES

The summary of receipts shown on the opposite page reveals some interesting facts. The grand total, $864,021.20 is an all time record for the Board. The unusually large figure is partly accounted for by the inclusion of $202,000 received through the United Advance Fund, which is of course reported also by the Committee on United Advance. It seemed best, however, to include that figure here also, to indicate how much was distributed to the Board of Foreign Missions during the year. The major part of this fund is being used for rehabilitation of property in China and Japan.

In last year's report it was noted that comparisons with the preceding year were difficult, because it was the first year of the new Board of Foreign Missions following amalgamation with the Woman's Board. This year the comparisons can be made and the splendid gains in both total receipts and total contributions from the living are most encouraging.

The most important figures are shown under I, as the Board must rely upon these receipts for the maintenance of the work. The total under that heading of $528,626.57 represents an increase of $31,533.72 over the corresponding figure of the previous year, a gain of a little over 6%.

The comparative giving of the various Synods, not including United Advance Funds may be studied in the tabular statements in the concluding pages of this report. The following brief summary is of interest:

			1946-47	1947-48
Particular	Synod	of	Albany . . . . .	$ 30,545.19	$ 34,496.46
"	"	"	Chicago . . . . .	227,272.52	244,295.65
"	"	"	Iowa . . . . .	113,292.87	127,388.49
"	"	"	New Jersey . . . .	63,764.90	67,915.67
"	"	"	New York . . . . .	48,121.51	47,262.37

It is with profound gratitude that we record the financial results of the year. The raising of the level of receipts for the regular work has made possible considerable reinforcement of the missionary staff. The magnificent response to the appeal of the United Advance assures the reconstruction of much of the property damaged by war. To all who have worked and sacrificed to make these achievements possible the Board, speaking for the missionaries and the hundreds of workers in many fields associated with them, expresses its deep appreciation.

HOME EXPENDITURES AND PER CAPITA GIFTS

The details of Home Expenditures appear in the report of the Certified Accountants in the concluding pages of this report. The total, $93,356.55 is about $2,000 less than last year's figure and is less than 11% of total receipts. Last year the corresponding ratio was 14%, the decrease being due to the heavy receipts from the United Advance Fund. This means that the percentage itself is not too significant. It fluctuates with the volume of gifts and for the same overhead twice the volume of receipts could be handled. The question of chief importance is the necessity of the expenses which are listed. Foreign Missions could be administered for far less than the figures shown, but included in the total are very substantial items for education and promotion and our generous contributions toward the Department of Young People's Work, the Department of Children's Work, the Staff Conference and other cooperative projects. One of the chief increases in recent years has also been the item for travel of Board members, which now costs nearly $4,000. It is the considered judgment of the Board that economy in education and promotion and in particular, economy in the item of Board travel, inevitably gives rise to misunderstanding and dissatisfaction. Only through thorough acquaintance with the work on the part of church members and wide representative participation in its administration, can this great work of the church go forward in strength.

The per capita rate of receipts, calculated upon the basis of total receipts, including the Board's share in the United Advance Fund, is $4.87 as compared with $3.78 in the preceding year. Calculated upon the basis of contributions from the living the per capita rate is $4.22 as against $3.25 in the preceding year. These figures also represent a high water mark in the history of the Board.

FIELD EXPENDITURES

The totals expended for the regular budgets of the Missions were as follows: Amoy, $107,843.63; Arcot, $141,497.82; Japan, $27,797.81; Arabia, $115,223.34; Africa, $6,169.12; United Mission in Mesopotamia, $10,424.00; a grand total of $408,955.72. This is $49,382.21 in excess of the corresponding figure of the previous year.

“... pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that He send forth laborers into His harvest.”
(Luke 10:2.)

Chapter Nine

The missionary is the heart of the whole program. This chapter includes not only new appointments made but also the list of places to be filled. The prayers of the Church are requested that the Lord may send forth laborers into His harvest.

There are 132 missionaries in the active service of the Board at the end of the Board year, 1948. Thirty are ordained missionaries, 17 are unordained men (12 of these doctors), 47 are married women and 38 are unmarried women. Of the unmarried women 2 are doctors, 14 are nurses and 22 are teachers or specialists in Christian education. In addition there are 31 emeritus missionaries on the roll of the Board. There are also 14 missionaries under appointment who are still in this country.

Returned to the Field:

TO CHINA —Dr. and Mrs. Theodore V. Oltman, Rev. and Mrs. William R. Angus

TO INDIA —Mrs. Galen F. Scudder

TO JAPAN —Miss Jeane Noordhoff and Rev. John C. de Maagd

TO ARABIA—Rev. and Mrs. Garrett E. De Jong and Rev. Harry J. Almond

At Home on Furlough:

The following missionaries have been home on furlough during this year:

Auditors' Statement

May 17, 1948.

The Board of Foreign Missions, R. C. A.,
156 Fifth Avenue,
New York 10, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

We have examined financial statements of the Board of Foreign Missions, R. C. A., for the year ended April 30, 1948. These statements accompany this report and are marked Exhibits "A", "B" and "C" and Schedules #1, #2 and #3.

In connection with our examination of the financial statements we obtained confirmations of cash balances on deposit, counted petty cash on hand and examined documents relating to or obtained confirmation of all investments. We received letters of confirmation from the custodian bank as to securities in safekeeping and from servicing agents with respect to certain mortgage investments. We also obtained letters confirming certain investment documents held by others and examined other investment documents on hand in the Board's office.

We examined or tested the accounting records to the extent we deemed appropriate and made a general review of the accounting methods, but we did not make a detailed audit of the accounts. We did not attempt to determine that all items of credits for revenue and charges for expenditures had been entered in all cases in the appropriate accounts, or that there had been compliance with all conditions and restrictions under which funds have been received.

Investments of the Board at April 30, 1948, including deposits in various savings institutions, are listed on Schedule #2. The amounts shown on this schedule for "current value" of certain investments at or near April 30, 1948 have been based on available published information. These valuations are not intended to represent the actual amounts realizable upon sale of the securities.

As a result of redemptions and sales of investments and compromise settlements of mortgage principal during the year under review, a net loss of $13,569.00 (excess of book values over proceeds) was realized. The Board has allocated this net loss as follows:

To Trust Funds .....	$5,794.42
Less—Profits allocated to special Funds .....	29.67	$ 5,764.75
		<hr/>
To Unallocated net loss realized on investments .....		7,804.25
		$13,569.00

Trust Funds have increased during the year by a net amount of $3,705.58, as follows:
Principal receipts:

Mrs. Celia Lanting Fund .....	$7,500.00
D. Dimnent Fund .....	2,000.00
	$9,500.00
Less—Net loss on investment transactions allocated to Trust Funds .....	5,794.42
	<hr/>
Net increase in Trust Funds .....	$3,705.58

The account for Conditional Gifts (annuity funds) has remained without change during the year under review.

Changes during the year in the account for "Unallocated net loss realized on investments" may be summarized as follows:

Balance, May 1, 1947 .....	$15,452.01
Add—Net loss charged to this account on investment transactions .....	7,804.25
	$23,256.26
Deduct—Refunds applicable to prior years' sales of investments .....	229.77
Balance, April 30, 1948—Exhibit "B" .....	$23,026.49

As shown on Exhibit "A", general purpose legacies amounting to $39,326.21 were received during the year and special purpose legacies were received totaling $19,852.97. Included in special purpose legacies was a residence property located in Grand Rapids, Michigan and valued by the Board at $7,500.00. This has been transferred from the legacy account to Trust Funds account where it is included at April 30, 1948 as the Mrs. Celia Lanting Fund.

The amount of $6,978.89 shown at April 30, 1947 as "Matured Annuities" was remitted during the year to the Arcot Mission to cover part of the cost of building a nurses' home.

During the year a legacy was received by the Board in the form of an undivided one-third of one-sixth interest in various securities in the Estate of George D. Hulst. In the absence of a satisfactory valuation, this item was recorded in the books of account at no amount with the intention of deferring entry of an amount in the accounts until liquidation of the item.

Receipts and disbursements of funds handled solely as accommodations are shown only on Exhibit "C" and are not included in Revenue or Expenditures on Exhibit "A".

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to in the first paragraph of this letter, when considered in conjunction with the foregoing information, fairly present a summary of the Board's revenue and related charges as recorded in the accounts for the year ended April 30, 1948 and its financial condition as at that date.

Respectfully yours,

LOOMIS, SUFFERN & FERNALD.

Certified Public Accountants.
